Aims:

This course aims to make students understand the historical background to literary criticism, exploring its development in the light of some contemporary viewpoints. Overall, “Principles of Literary Criticism” will focus much on the poetic and dramatic forms in order to highlight some significant trends and concepts around poetry, imagination and tradition. The course is intended to be a question- raiser arising questions like ‘why and how to understand literature through criticism? The question may grow comparatively and specifically more relevant when the reader of our part of the world is permitted to ask: why to study English literature or literatures in English?
